

Dear Valued Customer,

In our last update, we flagged a likely further price adjustment of around 3% to 5% in July, driven by ongoing increases in fuel, freight, and raw material costs.

We are pleased to confirm that we have decided to hold our prices at the June rate. Prices will not increase in July.

Market conditions remain volatile, so further adjustments may still be needed later in the year, and we will always give you as much notice as possible. We will continue to review costs and prices monthly, with current rates published in the Member's Section of our website.

We appreciate your continued support and partnership. For any questions, please contact your account manager or our customer service team.

Kind regards,
The APD Team
